Selectmen's Meeting

SEPTEMBER 17, 1985 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

42 ACRES PRIVATE LAND TO BE PRESERVED

In signing over a 42-acre piece of his land on Mattapoisett Neck Road to a preservation group, Edgar H. Batcheller, a long-time summer resident of Mattapoisett and a retired naval officer, told Selectmen last Tuesday, "When I have reached my last duty station, I want the land to look the same as it does today."

In keeping with a state general law, Selectmen must approve the plan before it goes to the State Secretary of Environmental Affairs for approval. As presented by Leonard E. Perry, attorney representing Mr. Batcheller, Selectmen enthusiastically approved the plan as prepared by Arthur Thompson, engineer, on August 28, 1985.

Batcheller said he was born on the property in 1910 and it has been his home all his life, except for the years he had to spend in Washington on naval duty. "I spent my honeymoon here and my children learned to swim here. My father left the major portion of the property equally to my brother and me; I bought my brother's share, except for a small portion. Much of the acreage is marshland, some is upland."

Batcheller said he does not want the land developed but wants it to remain the same as it is now. This action will leave it forever and forever in its natural state, except for necessary maintenance of walking trails.

The Trustees of Reservation, established in 1891, is a Massachusetts charitable corporation of Milton. A conservation restriction easement for a sum of $100. will deed the land on Mattapoisett Neck to this preservation group. Batcheller said the trust owns considerable acreage throughout the state and once it is signed and put in the record it is frozen.

half of School Bus Safety Week - September 22-28. A proclamation, issued by Governor Michael S. Dukakis, was read by Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta to kick off the safety week in Mattapoisett.

The proclamation notes there are approximately 12,000 school transportation vehicles registered in the state to carry an estimated 600,000 students on a daily basis; school buses are the safest means of transportation; the Registry of Motor Vehicles insures the proficiency of school bus drivers, the proper maintenance of school transportation vehicles and the safety of all school children.

Selectmen thanked Ennis for the extra time and attention he takes in speaking to youngsters in schools stressing safety not only in school buses but the importance of using safety belts in automobiles.

In other business, Selectmen:

RECEIVED WORD from Police Chief James Moran that he cannot recommend a four-way stop sign at the intersection of Old Marion and Pine Island Roads.

It is the chief's opinion that signs indicating "thickly settled area" and radar checks may be more effective.

The board agreed with this recommendation saying they felt it is more appropriate. Letters will be sent to those residents who signed a petition seeking the stop signs informing them of the board's decision.

APPOINTED Joyce LaPlante of 10 Long Plain Road as an assistant to Town Accountant Betty Sears. She will work 19 hours per week at a salary of $4.00 per hour with no extra benefits.

Aging. Ms. Vivianne Surprenant was appointed as a voting member and Robert Coquillette was appointed as council chairman.

TENTATIVELY AGREED on the date of November 2nd at 10 a.m. to perambulate the bounds of the town in conjunction with Selectmen of Marion and Rochester. The perambulation with Acushnet Selectmen will be scheduled for a separate date. This action is taken every five years, said Chairman DeCosta.

MET BRIEFLY with Caroline Trocchi of County Road (Route 6) regarding the flooding of her cellar during the recent severe rainstorm.

Selectmen agreed there is nothing they can do about the water coming down from Hitching Post Road, as the water is rain water and this was an unusual situation. They noted there is a sewer connection in that area so the water is just rain overflow.

Mrs. Trocchi said this was the first time she has had water in her cellar since moving there in 1948. She added that three feet of water flooded her new furnace. If it occurs again, she said she would have it tested.

VOTED TO FOLLOW THE RECOMMENDATION of Shellfish Constable Brian Nunes to postpone until November 2nd the opening of the scallop season. (The season had been scheduled to open October 1st.)

Nunes told Selectmen that in talking with Wareham's Shellfish Warden and other towns' shellfish officers, it was concluded the scallops have not spawned as yet and there will be a serious lack of scallops this year. Nunes said the closing won't hurt the commercial scalloper because there are no scallops out there for the taking. It will do not good to wait a year, he said, because the scallops will die.

EXPRESSED CONCERN with a notice received from Police Chief James Moran regarding changes relating to the Suicide Prevention Legislation on the care and protection of detainees in the town's lockup facility in Wareham.

Because of the passage of a 1984 state low, effective October 1, 1985, whenever a Mattapoisett officer brings a prisoner to the Wareham facility the town must provide a police officer or other trained person to remain with that prisoner for the entire time the prisoner is incarcerated there. Wareham Police Chief Robert C. Hammond notified Chief Moran saying he regretted the inconvenience but that he has no other alternative but to adhere to the law.

Selectmen commented on the fiscal problems this change will make, due to having a police officer away from town duty for long periods of time and the necessity of paying for extra coverage. Prisoners will have to be checked at 15 minute intervals, thus making it mandatory for an officer to remain at the Wareham lockup and not be able to travel back and forth during the day.

PUPPETS AND PLAYERS

This weekend marks the opening of the Arts Alive '85 series.

Saturday afternoon, September 28th, the renowned Bennington Puppets will present that tale of daring, excitement and magic, The Little Thief of Baghdad. The Arabian Nights characters are no bigger than 30 inches tall, yet five minutes into the story they're bigger than life and look real. Their flying carpets, genies, wizards and mysterious happenings never fail to fascinate audiences.

The show will take place at 3:00 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the Congregational Church. Because those attending will be sitting on the floor (the puppet stage is too large to fit on the stage) we suggest they bring a towel, blanket or pillow to sit on.

AN EVENING OF THEATER

The Mattapoisett Arts Lottery Council, as part of ARTS ALIVE '85, is sponsoring an evening of theater for adults this Sunday, September 29th, at 7:30 p.m. at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. For those concerned about an early Sunday curfew, the evening should conclude no later than 9:45.

Contributing their talents are the Marion Art Center Players, who will present George Bernard Shaw's one-act play, "Village Wooing". This charming play is a series of three conversations between a spirited young woman and curmudgeonly gentleman. Steeped is Shavian tradition, the play is slyly humorous and full of the author's astute observations of human nature. Directed by Val Campbell, actors Jessica Shepardson and Fred Lewis play amusingly under Ms. Campbell's deft touch.

The second offering is by Theatre One Production of Middleboro. The writing and acting (and married) team of Renee Taylor and Joseph Bologna have spawned "Lovers and Other Strangers". This hysterically funny play can currently be seen in a full production at T.O.P.'s home base in Middleboro. For ARTS ALIVE '85 they are presenting the second act, which plays complete in itself, as a view of modern love and marriage. Cast here are Arthur Ferry, Omer Courcy, Heather MacKenzie and Nancy Price, under the rapid-fire direction of T.O.P.'s Artistic Director Peg Holzemer.

Mattapoisett Historical Society

Carolyn Westgate Sylvia, better known as Carrie, was a history buff and most proud of Mattapoisett. Back in the 30's she began clipping items pertaining to Mattapoisett from the newspapers of the area and continued until her recent death.

When Carrie started clipping, the Standard Times had correspondents from the outlying towns. Anna J. Bradley was Mattapoisett's correspondent for many, many years, and her columns were a personal history of Mattapoisett...what club was meeting where ...which families had visitors....where people went for their vacations...and Carrie saved them all along with the feature stories that appeared from time to time. As the years passed items from the Presto Press and Sippican Sentinel were also clipped.

No longer does a newspaper tell when a family is away on vacation....their home would be an instant target for burglary ...and the personal columns are a thing of of the past. We now have Presto to tell us when organizations are meeting, who is having a flea market, and which of our young people have made the honor roll.

Dennis Sylvia, Carrie's husband, has given her scrapbooks to the Museum and friends have donated shelves for them to reside on. Carrie wanted the Museum to have them. They are a priceless history of Mattapoisett and show the changes that have taken place through the years. She would be most pleased to know of their new home and how much they are appreciated.

MATTAPOISETT HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEMBERS, GUESTS, FRIENDS AND ANY INTERESTED PERSONS are reminded to attend the 27th ANNUAL MEETING at the MUSEUM on SEPTEMBER 26th Rico, return to New York. He made many other voyages not mentioned here in this brief compilation.

Captain Weeks built his home at 27 North Street, Mattapoisett 1825-1826, when he was 26 years old.

Retiring from the sea in 1840 we next find him as a "Chronometer and Compass repairer", also as a surveyor who began and laid out the town map in 1873. Noah Hammond completed the map after Ansel's death. It is used to this day as a very fine reference. A copy is framed and can be seen at the Mattapoisett Historical Society's Museum.

Information compiled from the following: Mattapoisett Historical Society records, the book Mattapoisett and Old Rochester; Cushing Cemetery; and many helpful town residents.

Ansel Weeks was a scholar, sea captain, poet, craftsman, a non-conformist, complex man. His family's biography is most interesting, with accomplishments and tragedies.

Mattapoisett Visual History

Historians will meet on Wednesday, September 25th, at 10:00 a.m. The discussion will be the role woman held in the home, community, and her social life during the early part of the century.

This meeting ends the present series of tape recordings. Historians have been meeting for the past twenty weeks. They have been faithful in their quest to record the history of Mattapoisett and have earned a well deserved vacation.

The Visual History Project will continue its research beginning again in November.

There are over 20,000,000 members in the National AARP, and there are currently 65 chapters in Massachusetts, who exemplify AARP's motto: "To Serve, Not To Be Served". This is made possible through members' volunteer legislative advocacy, local community service work, and educational and social programs for people age 50 and older.

for the person you have in mind and buy it for the Library. After the book arrives, it will be inscribed as a book donated in honor of their birthday.

Hilary Prouty has chosen Jimmy's Boa Bounces Back written by Trinka Hakes Noble and illustrated by Steven Kellogg. It will be inscribed "Donated in Honor of Hilary Low Prouty's Eighth Birthday, September 21, 1985". Hilary will be the first person to check out the book and read it, and then it will be put on the shelves for everyone to enjoy!

What better way is there to celebrate the passing of such a special time than by giving a gift that will inspire, entertain, and expand! Books are eternal and hopefully these will last long enough to be shared by children and grandchildren for many, many years to come. When a special birthday approaches, please think of our new Birthday Books Program. Thank You.

ORR SENIOR NAMED NATIONAL MERIT SEMIFINALIST

Matthew Craver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Craver of Marion, has been named a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Competition. In October of 1984 over one million high school juniors took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT). Based on these PSAT scores, 15,000 have been named semifinalists by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. In Massachusetts alone over 40,000 students took the test and 403 have qualified as semifinalists. These students will now be considered for finalist status. National Merit will look at the student's high school record, extra-curricular activities, recommendation of the high school and November SAT scores to determine finalists.

Mr. Craver is a senior at Old Rochester familiarize themselves with the testing format also used on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

On the PSAT/NMSQT, the students taking the test at Old Rochester Regional High School on Saturday, October 19th, at 8:00 a.m. can "preview" the exam process for the SAT--the prerequisite for many college-bound students, said Barbara Meehan of the school guidance staff.

Since 1959 about 30 million high school students have taken the test, which measures verbal and mathematical abilities.

This year, the PSAT/NMSQT will be offered Saturday, October 19th, or Tuesday, October 22nd, at almost 20,000 high schools nationwide.

Through the PSAT/NMSQT students are selected for the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Program, which enables talented students to compete for scholarships, and Hispanic students are considered for the National Hispanic Scholar Award Program,

Here's how
Chiropractic treats
Athletic Injuries

Most athletes have come to recognize the hazards involved in their activities, and are among the most regular patients of chiropractic.

It is important to consult your doctor of chiropractic regularly, regardless of your type of recreational activity. If you are a parent, it is important to make certain your child does not suffer a spinal problem.

Your doctor of chiropractic will detect and correct subluxations, however incurred, and will arrest or prevent problems which they would produce. Chiropractic treatments can not only re-establish nerve function, but will relax you as well. With improved health, your enjoyment of your recreational activity will be enhanced.

funded through a $2.1 million grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.

In addition, students can use the test as a guide to see how they ranked nationally among other students.

As preparation for the 100-minute, two-part test, students receive a Student Bulletin containing a complete sample test with an answer key and scoring instructions.

After taking the actual test students will receive a booklet, About Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores, a descriptive explanation of test results. Students will also be able to compare their individual answers with the correct answers by consulting the Report of Student Answers, another valuable guide. Actual test booklets will also be made available to allow students to spot mistakes and work out answers correctly.

The College Board provides additional services for counselors and school personnel to better understand and interpret PSAT/NMSQT scores to students and parents. These services include summaries of student answers, profiles of academic characteristics and career interests of students who have taken the test, and a publication for inclusion in the regular guidance program.

Students may sign up in the ORR High School Guidance Office until Friday, October 11th. The cost will be $5.50.

Parenting Course

Being a parent is not an easy task -- especially nowadays! Today's concerned and sometimes bewildered parents have an increasing interest in finding better ways of relating to their children.

STEP can help! STEP is Systematic Training for Effective Parenting -- a realistic and sensible approach to parent-child relations. The program is a training course for parents and others who want their relationships with children to be more satisfying and enjoyable.

Through readings, discussions, posters, and audiocassettes, parents learn effective ways of communicating with their youngsters. And they have the chance to share their concerns with other parents.

STEP encourages mutual respect between parent and child, increased cooperation, and a more responsible, self-reliant attitude among children.

The STEP program is being sponsored in Mattapoisett by the Mattapoisett Schools. An introductory session will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 1st, at Old Lois Murray, Chairman of the Volunteer Council, reports that these new volunteers will be given a training course on consecutive Mondays from 9:00 a.m. to noon beginning in early October.

Anyone is eligible to join the Docent Program as long as they are free to take the Monday training sessions and are prepared to make a future commitment to the Museum. Upon completion of the course, they should expect to work a minimum of one day per week, Mrs. Murray said.

Interested persons should send a postcard with their name, address, and telephone number to Mrs. Lois Murray, c/o New Bedford Whaling Museum, 18 Johnny Cake Hill, New Bedford, MA. 02740 by September 30th.

tober 3 - January 12. THE NEW ENGLAND FISHERIES: A TREASURE GREATER THAN GOLD (The Russell W. Knight Collection of New England Fishing Scenes) consists of close to 100 works portraying New England fishermen, their fishing vessels and the local fishing ports that developed this proud New England industry--still proud today.

Works of varying styles, media, dates and subject matter by more than forty 19th and 20th century artists will be on view. Hard-working fishermen are illustrated hauling nets bursting with herring, handlining for Georges Bank cod from the pitching decks of an anchored schooner, emptying pots into the bow of a rugged Maine dory and, closer to home, harvesting the valuable seamoss from Plymouth Beach.

To complement this extraordinary exhibition, Museum Curator Nicholas Whitman has gathered historic and contemporary photographs, including those by New Bedford's legendary Albert Cook Church, who documented the operations of early 20th century offshore fishing. The challenge of today's offshore fishing is captured in a series of contemporary photographs taken aboard New Bedford ships -- the stern trawler ODIN and the scalloper HUNTER. These fresh photographs lead us through the steps of modern fishing technology from setting the trawl to fish handling and unloading. Photographs of the unruly weather on the Banks confirms that despite sophisticated gear now carried onboard, the challenge for the offshore fishermen remains what it was in the days of deck and dory fishing -- survival -- man against the sea.

The exhibition, THE NEW ENGLAND FISHERIES: A TREASURE GREATER THAN GOLD, was formerly at the Peabody Museum of Salem. An award-winning catalog by Curator Paul Forsythe Johnston is available at the Whaling Museum Shop.

The Whaling Museum is open Monday-Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m. Admission is $2.50 adults, $1.50 children, $2.00 seniors. Museum members free.

American Business Women's Association will hold their monthly meeting on October 2nd at the Whaler Motor Inn, New Bedford. Social hour will begin at 6 p.m., dinner at 7, with the business meeting scheduled for 8.

This month's guest speaker will be Margaret Kornblum of the Cabot Technical Ceramics Company. Her topic will be Career Analysis.

Guests are invited to attend. Interested individuals should contact Carolyn Toohey at 995-7292 or Susan Whitehead at 675-9557.

The Lloyd Center

Join Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies' staff for a walk to one of Dartmouth's many conservation lands on Sunday, September 27, at 1:30 p.m. Conservation properties, either privately or publicly owned, provide town residents and others with an enjoyable refuge for low-impact recreation such as hiking, bird-watching, learning about wildflowers, or simply enjoying the out-of-doors.

The group will visit one such area during this Weekly Walk. It is important to know which areas are public-accessible and which are not, so the group will review the maps prepared by the Town Planner's Office, which specify these areas. Please call the Lloyd Center, 990-0505, to register. There is no fee for this program, thanks to support from Marianne MacDonald Real Estate.

Service Academy Nominations

Washington, D.C. - Congressman Gerry E. Studds (D-MA) has announced that he is accepting applications from Tenth District high school students for nominations to United States service academies for the academic year 1986-1987. The deadline for applying for nominations to the Air Force, Military, Naval and Merchant Marine Academies is November 15, 1985.

"It is one of my great privileges as a U.S. Representative to have an opportunity to nominate students to our service academies," Studds said. This year, two Tenth District residents began their studies at each of the nation's four academies.

As in the past, all academy applications will be reviewed by Studds' Service Academy Nominee Selection Committee, which is comprised of distinguished southeastern Massachusetts residents. The Selection Committee will recommend the most qualified applicants from the Tenth District to Studds, who will forward these recommendations to the academies as his nominees. The selection boards of each academy will then evaluate these nominees -- on a strictly competitive basis -- for appointment to next year's class.

Students interested in an academy nomination or requiring further information, may

Review: Your Theatre

"ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST"

A Review by David B. Boyce

The Dale Wasserman theatrical adaptation of Ken Kesey's once infamous novel, "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest", makes for a powerful and engrossing evening of drama. In the light of recent newspaper headlines and media reports citing abuse in mental hospitals and nursing homes, the play is perhaps more painfully relevant now than when it first appeared over twenty years ago. A scathing indictment of the treatment of patients, the play blends comic relief with some very ugly realities, in a tautly structured vehicle, providing some wonderfully juicy roles for actors, as well as a complete catalogue of emotions for viewer involvement.

Your Theatre's production provides some excellent illustrations for that catalogue. Director Judy Lemay has a keen eye for movement, never allowing a visual lull and wisely avoiding a circus display. Given the range of possibilities for choreographing a group of patients with varying degrees of impairment, Ms. Lemay has struck an exciting balance of choices. To her credit and to those of the company, she has enlisted a cast both flexible and imaginative.

Heading that cast and carrying the evening, Gregory F. Leonard is superb as Randle P. McMurphy, a new patient to the State Hospital and one whose incarceration seems questionable. While we're told the reasons for his commitment, McMurphy's normalcy, albeit exuberant and eccentric, seems out of place in such an institution. Mr. Leonard, after a somewhat self-conscious start, grew by leaps and bounds as the play progressed, offering a panoply of actions and reactions, keeping the viewer constantly enthralled. His is a controlled performance - quirky and energetic, full of interesting choices that are fully realized.

Karen Chase, an experienced performer, only adequately captures the vindictiveness of Nurse Ratched. She does not make the character the monument of subtle vitriol Ratched could be. Ms. Chase's characterization is no match for Leonard McMurphy and that relationship is the linchpin of the play. She could have been more deliberate, more revealing of the fact that she holds all the aces for the games in which they engage. Nurse Ratched, dressed in whites and seemingly a thorough professional, is in fact the epitome of an evil and unfulfilled bitch, exacting revenge on the agressively boyish rogue, McMurphy. This is the weak link in Ms. Lemay's chain of direction, in that she failed to elicit from Ms. Chase the performance that would just eclipse that of Leonard, creating the tension of a cat-and-mouse game in which the cat would always win, despite the seeming victories of the mouse.

Supporting these capable actors is a retinue of strong performances highlighted by Michael Fitzgerald as Billy Bibbit, a chronic suicide attemptee, sensitively played. Equally good are George Lemay as a stupified American Indian, Robert Suares as a timid man, torn between the freedoms suggested by McMurphy and the demagoguery of Nurse Ratched. Nurses Faith LaBrie and Lucy Bly, goodtime girls Donna T. Dorgan and Susan Lawrence, as well as additional patients Rick Currier, Ron Saulnier and Bill Hart all deserve praise for their work.

Setting by George R. Lemay and lighting by Lawrence R. Houbre, Jr. were, as usual for Your Theatre, thoroughly professional.

Despite an adequate performance in a major role, Your Theatre has addressed an important social issue and provided an entertaining and provocative theatrical experience.

Additional performances will be staged September 25-28. For further information or reservations call 993-0772.

"St. Luke's Hospital has been working closely with the City of New Bedford to improve access and services", noted John Correira, Communications Manager. "The TTY system will enable the hospital to better respond to emergency situations involving the hearing impaired," he added.

"People who are hearing impaired or deaf," said Andrew M. Katz, Executive Director of the City of New Bedford's Citizens with Disabilities, "will no longer live in fear of not being able to communicate during medical emergencies."

St. Luke's also has a mobile TTY system which can be installed in patient rooms. When deaf or hearing impaired persons are hospitalized, they will be able to communicate with their families at home through the TTY system.

"HOW SWEET IT WAS"
TO OPEN ZEITERION THEATRE'S NEW SEASON

It's nostalgia at its best when the Zeiterion Theatre presents the 1950's song and dance revue How Sweet It Was, sponsored by the New Bedford Standard-Times, on October 1st to open the Zeiterion's 4th performing arts season. Starring Jill Corey of T.V.'s "Your Hit Parade", this parade of hits features the music a whole generation grew to love.

It's a trip down memory lane featuring songs made famous by Perry Como, Connie Francis, Nat King Cole, Patti Page, and The Maguire Sisters right up to Elvis Presley and Chuck Berry, and of course, ol' blue eyes himself, Frank Sinatra. Never-to-be-forgotten hits such as "April Love", "Old Cape Cod", "Misty", "Rockin' Robin", "Sixteen Candles", "Where the Boys Are", and "Dream, Dream, Dream" are just a few of the numbers to be presented by this talent-

How Sweet It Was was conceived and written by Barry Harman, a two time Emmy Award winner as a writer for "The Carol Burnett Show" and "All in the Family". The show's producer, Harve Brosten, has worked on such films as "The Anderson Tapes" and "The Way We Were" and in 1978 received the Emmy for Best Writing of a T.V. Comedy Series for the premier episode of "The Jeffersons".

Known to millions of Americans as the headliner of "Your Hit Parade", Jill Corey adds a touch of class to this production with her personal warmth and dynamic vocals. Born Norma Jean Speranza in a coal mining town of Pennsylvania, Ms. Corey demonstrated her style at a very young age, and by age 17 she was signed with Dave Garroway (appearing with him for nine months) and appeared on the cover of Life magazine with a ten page feature spread inside. She has appeared on the "Robert Q. Lewis Show", the "Ed Sullivan Show", and, for nine months, with Johnny Carson in his earlier years on his California-based show. With her daughter grown and pursuing her own career, Ms. Corey has returned to her career and with great dedication and love, has come to headline this cast of eight talented singers and dancers and six musicians in an affectionate, exuberant salute to the

BIRD WALK TO GOOSEBERRY NECK SATURDAY

On Saturday, September 28th, Paskamansett Bird Club members will attempt to top their recent record of 48 fall species observed on a recent morning tour. The group will gather at 8 a.m. at Westport Point bridge; and under guidance of Ruth Howland, veteran birder, they will make their way on down to the tip of Gooseberry Neck. Interested area birders are cordially invited to join them.

This bird walk is the 5th in the club's fall schedule. The gratifying number of 48 kinds of birds was generated at Acoaxet on September 14th under leadership of Gerald Barros, a widely-experienced bird enthusiast. The single most spectacular sighting of the morning was of a flock of some 40 American Wigeon ('baldpates') feeding on Cockeast Pond. Other importantly notable species seen included a Stilt Sandpiper, a Spotted Sandpiper, Long-billed Dowitchers, Laughing Gulls, Blue-Gray Gnatcatcher, Surf Scoters, Turkey Vultures, Sharp-shinned Hawk, Rose-breasted Grosbeak, and a goodly flock of Cedar Waxwings.

On the Monday following, two members of the club journeyed to Mt. Wachusett in the central, hilly part of the state to watch the spectacle of hawk migration there. Although lack of favorable winds was an adverse factor for observation of great numbers of migratory raptors, the visitors did see 5 different species, a respectable majority of the kinds that could be expected.

The club's most recent outing was at the east end of Allen's Pond. Jean and David Bird, hosts at a morning coffee following the walk, afforded a very pleasurable morning to a large gathering of birders.

The next evening monthly meeting of the club is scheduled for October 9th at Allen's Neck Friends' Meeting House. Club member Irwin Marks of Acushnet will present an illustrated talk on his recent journey to Australia, where he found birding to be an exciting challenge as well as a gratifying adventure. Non-member birdwatchers are welcome to attend the free lecture.

Banned Books Exhibit

The Southeastern Massachusetts University Library presently has an exhibit of a selection of books banned for various reasons at various times in history. The exhibit makes no pretense at exhaustiveness but attempts to show the folly and prejudices behind any form of intellectual censorship. Most of the censored books were banned because of the politics, morality, and religion of the times. Several of the banned books have become today's classics, among them such works as Lysistrata, Faulkner's Sanctuary, God's Little Acre, and All Quiet on the Western Front. The Library is indebted to Ms. Anne Lyon Haight and her book, "Banned Books" for source material in compiling this exhibit. This exhibit will be held through October 4th and is situated on the third floor exhibit area.

Library hours are: Monday - Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Theatre of The Deaf

TO PERFORM AT SMU

A Model T Ford will be one of the stars on the stage of Southeastern Massachusetts University's auditorium when the National Theatre of the Deaf entertains there on October 3rd.

The troupe of deaf and hearing actors, who direct their simultaneously signed and spoken performances to hearing audience, will present an evening of two plays, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The first, "In a Grove", is a Japanese thriller based on a tale by Ryunosuke Akutagawa of deception, intrigue, and murder. In watching this Oriental "whodunnit?" the audience listens to three differing eyewitness accounts of the murder in a grove and tries to piece together the facts in this baffling tale. The story is similar

The New Yorker magazine, on a 1922 cross-country trip he took in his own "T", nicknamed "Hotspur".

David Hays, a leading Broadway scenic and lighting designer, founded the National Theatre of the Deaf 18 years ago. Since then the NTD has performed on Broadway and in all 50 states, toured six continents, made television specials for all the major networks, and represented the United States at the 1984 Olympic Arts Festival in Los Angeles. It has won the Tony Award for theatrical excellence and is the only American theater company ever invited to tour China.

Describing an NTD performance, Hays says that sign language is combined with the spoken word. "The audience hears and sees every word. We are a theater of the deaf, not for the deaf."

Ticket prices for the evening performance are $7.50 for the public, $5. for senior citizens and SMU staff, and $2.50 for students. For tickets call the campus center ticket office at 999-8136.

At 3 p.m. the same day the NTD will hold a free, public workshop in the Vietnam Veterans Peace Memorial Amphitheater. In case of inclement weather, the workshop will be held in the south alcove of the commuter cafeteria in the SMU campus center.

The performances are sponsored by the SMU Cultural Affairs Committee.

Diane Desnoyers, R.N., Public Education Chairman of the Society's Greater New Bedford Unit. Facilitators of American Cancer Society quit-smoking programs will begin using FreshStart, a program developed by the National American Cancer Society to help smokers kick the habit.

"The concise, four-hour format of FreshStart will be easier than the present eight-hour program for companies to include in their employee's busy schedules," Ms. Desnoyers said. She noted that an eight-hour version of the program will also be available for use, depending on the needs and time limitations of the participants. The longer format incorporates films, guest speakers, and "cigarette diaries" that have proven helpful in past smoking cessation workshops. Studies conducted by the American Cancer Society have shown the four-hour program to be as successful as the eight-hour program.

Ms. Desnoyers said that FreshStart focuses on helping the participants plan ahead to avoid returning to cigarettes later. The program contains information about relaxation and breathing techniques that help ex-smokers get through times of
